Canvas Low

This cabinet is the little brother of Canvas. The first of a series inspired by folk art: painting on furniture. The tradition to create something unique by painting a simple piece of furniture is known around the world. It tells a story about the owner. That is why Canvas Low is always made in consultation with the client and their specific needs. Whether it is a dresser or cabinet: Form will literally follow function. The cabinet is made of steel and covered with painted leather.
